

My Self Care Needs Checklist

A gentle way to use this resource

Begin anywhere. Read one section at a time, choose only what fits, and skip, adapt, pause, or stop as needed. Try one practice before adding another. Reflection is an invitation, not a requirement.

Educational wellness material. Not therapy, diagnosis, medical advice, crisis care, or a substitute for individualized professional support.

Before you begin

Take a moment to notice where you are starting. There is no correct answer and no requirement to complete every prompt.

What is most present?	What would feel supportive?
[ ] Tension or restlessness [ ] Heavy emotion [ ] Numbness or shutdown [ ] Racing thoughts [ ] Low energy [ ] Something else: _____	[ ] More steadiness [ ] More clarity [ ] Comfort or rest [ ] A practical next step [ ] Connection or support [ ] Something else: _____

A simple rhythm

1. Notice	Name what is happening without judging it.
2. Choose	Select one prompt or practice that fits your energy and circumstances.
3. Try	Use it gently for a clear amount of time. Smaller still counts.
4. Check	Notice whether you feel even slightly steadier, clearer, safer, or less alone.

Low-energy option

Read only the headings. Circle or note one sentence that feels useful. Then choose one action that takes five minutes or less. You can return later; stopping is allowed.

Self-Care, Boundaries & Personal Direction

This does not replace therapy This worksheet is a general educational and self-reflection resource. It is not individual therapy, group therapy, counseling, medical or psychiatric care, diagnosis, treatment, legal advice, or crisis intervention. It may be used alongside therapy or other qualified professional support when that is appropriate for you, but it does not replace those services.

Use choice and care You may skip a question, adapt an activity, pause, or stop. Some topics or exercises may bring up discomfort, strong emotions, memories, dizziness, or physical sensations. Clinical or wellness terms are used only for general education and are not a personalized assessment or recommendation.

Seek appropriate support

Consult an appropriately qualified professional about your individual mental health, physical health, medications, safety, legal matter, or treatment decisions. No outcome is promised, and information or external links may change.

My Self-Care Needs Checklist

Step 1: Quick Body-Mind Check

Ask yourself:

l Body fi Am I tired, tense, hungry, or restless?

_____ l Mind fi Am I scattered, foggy, or overstimulated? _____

_____ l Emotions fi Am I anxious, sad, irritable, or numb? _____ _____ l Connection fi Do I feel lonely, disconnected, or overwhelmed by others?

_____ _____ l Spirit fi Do I feel aimless, stuck, or low on hope/meaning?

_____ _____

Step 2: Match Need fi Type of Self-Care

l If body says "I'm drained" fi

- Physical self-care (rest, move, hydrate, eat). l If mind says "I'm overloaded" fi
- Mental self-care (breaks, declutter, read, simplify). l If emotions say "I'm heavy" fi
- Emotional self-care (journal, cry, self-talk, connect). l If connection feels off fi
- Social self-care (call/text a friend, set boundaries, play with pets). l If spirit feels flat fi
- Spiritual self-care (nature, gratitude, meditation, ritual, service).

Step 3: Choose 1 Small Action

4 Circle or jot down one thing you can do in 5-10 minutes that meets the need you identified.

Examples:

l Drink a glass of water fi Physical.

l Write down 3 small wins fi Mental. l Text a friend fi Social. l Step outside and breathe fi Spiritual/Physical. l Put on a comforting song fi Emotional.

- The key: Pause fi Notice fi Match fi Act.

Educational wellness notice

This worksheet and website offer educational wellness and self-reflection tools only.

They are not therapy, diagnosis, medical care, legal advice, crisis care, or individualized safety planning.

Pause or stop any activity that feels wrong, unsafe, inaccessible, or too much.

For immediate danger or a medical emergency, call 911. In the U.S., call or text 988 for crisis support.

SAFETY, PRIVACY & EDUCATIONAL USE

MY REFLECTIVE COLLECTIVE - MICHELLE D. ELDER, MSW, LMHC

If there is immediate danger or a medical emergency: Call 911 in the United States or use your local emergency number. For U.S. suicide or mental-health crisis support, call or text 988. For relationship-safety support, contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 800-799-7233, text START to 88788, or visit TheHotline.org from a safer device when possible. _____ _____ Privacy and safer searching

If someone may monitor your device, accounts, internet connection, location, downloads, or browser activity, consider using a safer device and a trusted network. Private browsing may reduce locally saved history but does not make activity invisible. Clearing history can also be noticed. A website Quick Exit button changes the page; it cannot erase browser, download, router, account, employer, school, carrier, or device records. Choose only steps that feel safer in your situation.

Do not store identifying or safety-sensitive answers where another person may find them.

Educational scope and professional limits This resource provides general psychoeducation, reflection, and wellness support. It is not therapy, counseling, diagnosis, assessment, treatment, medical advice, legal advice, crisis response, forensic evaluation, or an individualized safety plan.

It does not replace care from a licensed clinician, healthcare professional, attorney, trained advocate, emergency service, or other qualified professional. Laws, court procedures, services, and risks vary by location and circumstance.

Choice, pacing, and inclusion You may skip, change, discuss, dictate, draw, pause, or stop any activity. No exercise can determine what you experienced, diagnose a condition, prove a legal claim, guarantee safety, or tell you whether to stay, leave, report, reconcile, forgive, or pursue court action. Adapt language and activities for culture, identity, disability, neurotype, age, literacy, sensory needs, and personal preference. Automatic translation can make mistakes; confirm legal, medical, emergency, and safety-critical wording with a qualified person.

Supportive practices and reminders

Trauma-informed choice

You are in charge of pace, privacy, and participation. Keep your eyes open if that feels safer. Change the words, position, movement, or environment. Skip any prompt that increases distress. You never have to describe a traumatic experience to benefit from grounding or reflection.

A one-minute mindfulness pause

Notice one point of support beneath you. Look around and name three neutral things you see. Notice one sound and one body sensation without trying to change either. Ask, 'What would support me in the next few minutes?' Choose the smallest workable response.

Believable affirmations

Choose language your mind can accept. Try: 'I can take one step at a time.' 'My needs and boundaries matter.' 'I am allowed to pause.' 'I can ask for support.' 'This moment is difficult, and it will not always feel exactly like this.' Edit any statement until it feels honest and respectful.

Practical tips

Pair reflection with water, food, movement, rest, medication as prescribed, or contact with a safe person when needed. Save the most helpful page where it is easy to find. Revisit the resource when you are relatively steady so the choices feel familiar during harder moments.

When more support is appropriate

A worksheet cannot provide emergency care, diagnosis, or individualized treatment. Consider a qualified health or mental-health professional when distress is intense, persistent, worsening, affecting daily functioning, or connected with safety concerns. In immediate danger, contact local emergency services or a crisis service available in your country.

Integrate and choose your next step

Pause after reading. More information is not always more helpful; the goal is to leave with one choice you can actually use.

What stood out?

What is one kind, realistic next step?

What support, boundary, or adaptation would help?

If this did not help

You did not fail. Try making the step smaller, changing from a thinking practice to a body or sensory practice, checking basic needs, or involving a safe person. Strong, persistent, or worsening distress may need professional or crisis support beyond a worksheet.
